THIS EDITION of the Cauldron year book has as its theme, the city of Stockton. In urban life citizens make government, clubs, social life, and sports a vital part of their daily routine; so in a similar manner, high school students carry on their daily activities. We are endeavoring in this Cauldron to picture the organizations, sports, and activities which, separately or together, contribute to student life. We hope that in future years, when the students of today have become tomorrow's citizens, these pictures will bring back happy memories of eventful days at St. Mary's.

To Nancy -
To the mostest Junior
I ever knew. Best of luck.

Rally chairman, Jack Heinsius
Student Body vice-president, Patsy Wong
Treasurer, Patrick McGuire
Secretary, Helen Weys
President, James Firpo

DEDICATION

To our Blessed Lady in this, her Marian Year, we lovingly dedicate the Cauldron of 1954.

Government

The city of Stockton is governed by a city manager and councilmen; under their able leadership the city has grown, the people have prospered, and business has thrived. New industries have developed; and new factory contracts have been obtained which place Stockton among the leading cities of San Joaquin County; thus numerous occupations have been made available to the citizens of this developing community. Beneficial laws both safeguard the rights of individuals and protect business interests. Stockton has met the problems of an expanding city and is solving them with acumen and foresight.

With the same fervor and discretion our school government, under the direction of the student-body president and the executive council, provides a democratic system for the students of Saint Mary's. At regular class meetings opportunities are given to all members to consider and discuss ideas and to plan activities. At student-body meetings, students learn what other classes and organizations have planned and accomplished. The Executive Council, consisting of the student-body officers and class presidents and vice-presidents, enforces the rules of the school and metes out penalties for those who violate regulations.

City government and school government work hand in hand; by participating actively in school government, students gain a clearer understanding of the function of city government and thereby become better leaders of tomorrow.

Everett Boscacci, senior class president
Patricia Maguire, class vice-president
George Orello, class sergeant-at-arms

Organizations

To help increase interest in the welfare of the city, Stockton citizens have established various organizations --- Parent-Teacher Associations, Young Men's Institute, the Rams' Club, Quarterback Club and the Knights of Columbus. Any adult who wishes to encourage co-operative social and cultural relationships may belong to one or more of these groups. The Record, the local daily newspaper, faithfully reports and encourages the efforts and achievements of these organizations.

At Saint Mary's, upper classmen unite with lower classmen in their endeavors to form successful committees and societies. The major institution within the school is the Catholic High School Federation, divided into five committees: Christian Life, Parish Activities, Publicity, Mission and Literature. Each group functions within the bounds suggested by its name. Another phase of civil-social organization is paralleled at Saint Mary's by the Block S.M. Society, a club composed only of those students who have fulfilled the requirements of its constitution. The California Scholarship Federation, which recently chartered a new chapter at Saint Mary's, inspires many boys and girls to strive for better grades. The Cauldron staff aims to produce a worthwhile memory book which will provide nostalgic pleasure in future years. The school newspaper, the Kettle, publicizes coming entertainments and all other school events. It is also an effective means of encouraging and praising those who in any way have distinguished themselves.

By working in school organizations, students learn the importance of co-operation with fellow workers and at the same time familiarize themselves with the true meaning of responsibility. Those who have taken an active part in school organizations here at Saint Mary's will no doubt be leading members of city organizations in future years.

Federation Officers:

Peggy Bosworth, Publicity Committee chairman; Hary Lalor, Federation vice-president; Emmett Doherty, Federation president, Sally Schenone, Christian Life Committee Chairman; Linda Ramirez Literature Committee chairman; Patricia Maguire, Parish Activities Committee chairman; Donna Muzio, Mission Committee chairman.

The Federation, an organization which works toward the developing of the spiritual, moral and social viewpoints of young people, is a vital part of the student program at Saint Mary's. The diverse groups within the Federation adequately accomplish the duties imposed on them.

Membership in the Federation and participation in any one of the committees play an important part in the development of an individual's character. One cannot take an active part in the social, charitable, or governmental function of the Federation without learning through experience the duties of a well-rounded Christian citizen.

The Cauldron

The CAULDRON staff has worked to produce a year book which would please the students. For many months pictures were taken and articles were written so that there would be adequate material for the publication. It is the hope of the staff that the 1954 CAULDRON will provide the students with many enjoyable memories.

The Kettle

The efforts of the KETTLE staff to produce an entertaining school paper each month have been fruitful indeed. Under the capable direction of its editor, the members of the staff have co-operated to print a publication which in every way is a credit to our school.

Block S.M. . . . Block S.M. membership is open to those who have earned a block in any sport. The members this year sponsored a snow trip to Dodge Ridge in February, a dinner dance, and an athletic day. The generosity of the group aided the Christian Life Committee with the party for underprivileged children at Christmas time. The success of the Block S.M. is due to the splendid co-operation of the members.

student is eligible for membership. The objects of the chapter are to give scholastic honor to its members and to encourage others to strive for better grades.

Activities

To ease the tension of daily work, Stockton citizens have provided periods of relaxation for themselves by the introduction of various activities, such as: bazaars, fashion shows and card parties. The Annunciation Guild, Philomathean Club and Junior Aid not only offer social entertainment but are sources from which flow many charitable works. The Stockton Symphony Orchestra, the annual Symphony Ballet, directed by Helen Moore Roberts, and the theatrical productions of the local colleges provide great pleasure to those who enjoy the arts.

Saint Mary's students, who feel the necessity for some relief from the steady routine of educational pursuits, have ample opportunity to display their talents, to advance in leadership and to relax thoroughly. Each class sponsors a dance in which social pleasure is united with charitable activity, for the proceeds are donated to the Missions. Theatrically Saint Mary's does not lag; the annual Christmas entertainment, the Junior Show of Shows, the several skits at rallies allow anyone with histrionic ability to display his talent and to advance his art. The Cauldron fashion show, at which young ladies model the latest styles during a pleasantly informal social tea, is one of the means by which the year book is financed. Luncheons served by the senior girls and by the Mission Committee members develop the culinary arts, provide much good entertainment and increase the fund which is used only for charitable purposes.

Such activities among the younger citizens of Stockton broaden their outlook, enable them to learn much about public relations and develop their talents so that in later years they will be valuable assets to their communities.

Christmas Program

Work on the annual Christmas program engendered holiday spirit in the students of Saint Mary's. Comedy was the theme of the first playlet, "Too Much Mistletoe." The second feature added a new note to our entertainments. The choral group sang "The Night Before Christmas" while three talented freshmen rendered an interpretative ballet. A serious and beautiful tableaux, the memorable scene of the Infant Christ and His Mother at Bethlehem, concluded the program.

Sports

The citizens of Stockton enjoy many different athletic events throughout the year. The College of the Pacific offers keen entertainment for those who desire to see football and basketball in action; the baseball team, "The Ports," represents our city in the California League. Indeed, Stocktonians are very proud of their achievements.

We, too, at Saint Mary's take pride in the efforts of those boys who have represented our school in the athletic world. Their unselfish endeavors have inspired our support and appreciation, and we have tried to show our gratitude by frequent rallies and by our attendance at games throughout the school year. The tremendous spirit and forceful efforts which our athletes have displayed in both Valley Oak League and Tracy Tournament competition have gained for them the wide and commendable recognition of the public.

The experience that the boys gain in school sports gives them the basic and fundamental background which will enable them to enter into any athletic field that they choose; the Christian ideals and principles which they have been taught at Saint Mary's will always aid them to play with true sportsmanship.

- Dear Nancy -

Well Nancy this is the end. It just doesn't seem possible that four years could go by so fast. Remember all the fun we had in sewing class. We would laugh all the time.

~~Its~~ As a girl friend I will never forget you and all the good times we have had in our years here at St. Mary's all the football, basketball games, the dances, and of course Junior Guild which is tops.

I will always think of you Nancy as a little Sister rather than a girl friend. I hope you never forget me Nancy as I will never forget you. You really have taken a lot from me. Its not pay any attention to me if I cut you low I really don't mean it. I really think a lot of you.

Well Nancy what I have to say to you I cannot put in writting.

The best of luck to you in your senior year I know you will be tops. This school will be dead with out you and all your cut loues. Everyone enjoys it though. Good luck Nancy I hope we will be friends in all the years to come.

Love and luck always
